Enjoy The Journey – Forget the Destination

It is very cliché to say “life is a journey, not a destination.” I bring the phrase to your attention because although many of us recognize the value of our experience is the experience, it is also a common to judge our experiences as better, worse, good, bad. The problem with those types of judgments is that we impose limitations on our space through those label assignments.

We all like experiences that bring comfort, money, love and joy. That is the human experience. We are being human. What tends to happen when we are in the space of comfort, money, love and joy is that we suddenly feel we have “arrived.” As soon as we adopt the idea that we have arrived, we stop our energy from flowing. We stop growing.

We must strive to look at all situations with an equal perspective. All experiences are equally valuable. When we even the playing field on experiences, stepping back from the good, bad, worse, better judgments, we create a space of peace. No matter what experience comes into our life, peace will be the constant.

This in no way suggests you should not feel happiness, love, joy or comfort. It means do not attach yourself to the feeling as if it is the “be all” “end all” destination in your life.

One thing is for sure, we came to this planet to grow and evolve. Only the things we need to work on show up on the planet. If we remove ourselves from our “learning” condition, and believe we have arrived, our evolution stops. We begin to encounter conflict, boredom, discontent and confusion.

Train yourself to appreciate the journey of living, and for the divine food of life that is presented for your soul’s perfection in every moment. Maintain a kindergarten spirit by seeing each day as an opportunity to learn something new. Give up the destination. Allow your life to unfold peacefully, and with the perfection only God-consciousness can provide.

Love and light,

Phyllis

Dear Friends,

Now that the swine flu has run its course I'm officially off and running again. I'm happy to share that in January my radio show will also be syndicated in New York City on WABC. I'm grateful for the expansion and for the ability to speak my truth to a broader audience.

Things you can expect over the next couple months are these:

Workshops:

December 12th, I will be hosting a Group Reading Symposium in Los Angeles at the Bodhi Tree Bookstore from 3 to 5 p.m. . If you live in the Los Angeles area and would like to attend, please give me a call or visit my website for details. I look forward to seeing you! Cost $25/pp

January 9th, Donna Morrish and I will be hosting a "Jump Start Your Energy Extravaganza" in Castro Valley. This will be a half day (5 hour) workshop designed to help you dust off and energize your relationship, money, career, and health spaces! It will be a jam packed powerful day. You will learn tools, receive readings, healings, and teaching on all the topics. If you're ready to jump into your new year full speed ahead you will not want to miss this energizing experience. Visit my website or call 925-362-3083 for details. Cost $100.00

January 31st, I will again be in Los Angeles doing a workshop with the amazing and dynamic author of "You Are What You Love," Vaishali. The topic is "Make Your Mind Your Friend." The cost if $40.00 at the door, $30 if you pre-register. Visit my website for more information.
